The Monroe City Council today called a $6-million bond issue election at the request of the City School Board to finance school expansion, including a new southside high school.

"Our school system has grown," explained chairman J. H. Scogin Jr. as he and Supt. Van D. Odom outlined the proposed program to the City Council this morning at City Hall.

"We feel that to keep abreast of the growth it's time to expand," he added.

The council's unanimous voice vote cleared the way for the city to seek permission from the State Tax & Bond Board for the proposed passage of the program.

TAX INCREASE

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard said the program would represent an increase of six mills on the city tax rolls. He pointed out that the council was charged with the responsibility of calling school board bond issue elections.

"Our school facilities have to be kept up to date," Howard said.

Here are projects included in the program:

1. Construction of a new high school on southside of Monroe as recommended by a survey team from the Department of Education.

2. Addition of 86 new classrooms at six schools including 16 rooms at Neville High School, 20 at Carroll High School, 10 at Carver Elementary School, 20 at Clark Elementary School, 10 at Lee Junior High School, and 10 at Minnie Ruffin Elementary School.

3. Two new elementary schools, including one for colored on the southside and a white elementary school on the northside. Each would have 20 rooms.

4. Expansion of physical education and stadium facilities at present high schools, including the Neville gymnasium, stadium and stadium lighting, Carroll stadium and lighting, Jefferson dressing rooms and band rooms and the Carroll gym.

5. Equipment and furnishings for all projects.

6. Air conditioning of high school auditoriums at Neville and Carroll.

7. Air conditioning of other present facilities, including all schools.

8. Legal expenses of bond issue.

WHOLE PROGRAM

"This program would be presented as a whole to the property owners for approval," Odom said. "It would not be broken into propositions."

Property owners would vote for or against the entire package. Presently six mills are levied for city schools.

Odom noted that the last city school bond issue was $1.7 million in 1961.

"We've got to keep pace with the city's growth," he said.

Records disclose that in the past five years colored students have increased by 21.8 per cent in the city system while the white enrollment was jumping 21 per cent.

The board, Odom explained, anticipates that within the next five years colored enrollment would increase 21.6 per cent while the white enrollment would climb 20.16 per cent.

He said the board included the construction of a new high school in the program based on recommendations made by the Department of Education. A state survey team last spring inspected the city's growth, later recommending that the new school be built.

It would be located on Parkview Drive.

Enrollment in the city system for the 1964-65 year is 10,722, but Odom pointed out that it increases each year.

Youth Casino Uncovered In New Jersey

HAWORTH, N.J. (AP) — A gambling casino operated by teen-agers for a teen-age clientele has been uncovered in this community after operating about two months.

The gaming room, in the basement of a $40,000 private home, was patterned after dice rooms in Puerto Rico, police said today. They said the youthful host wore a white dinner jacket and black tie to receive his patrons.

$300 AHEAD

Police said the operators of the gaming room, two 16-year-olds and one 17-year-old, provided limousine service for some of the players. From records seized by police, it was determined that many of the players were in debt to the house.

As many as 20 teen-agers, from 15 to 17 years old, would play at one time, said police.

"One 17-year-old boy was in debt $102," said Police Chief Gaston Michel. "There was a big winner too — a college boy who was $300 ahead."

Police began watching the house Feb. 12 after receiving an anonymous letter — apparently from a parent of a teen-ager who lost money, Michel said.

The games operated Friday or Saturday night.

On Sunday, police executed a search warrant, he said.

The operators of the game were charged as juvenile delinquents and released in custody of their parents.

The owners of the house, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Olsen, 481 Beech St., were charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors, as was their maid, Minnie Chatham, Michel said. The Olsens were released in $1,000 bail each and Mrs. Chatham in $500.

SHOCKED MYSELF

Michel said the gamblers were "all from good families. Many parents we've notified were shocked. They thought their children were out skating, sledding or other things like that. I'm shocked myself. I watched most of these kids grow up and helped them across the street to school when they were little."

Players who walked to the house stopped at a rear cellar window to be identified. Others were driven to the house in two cars, apparently operated by teen-agers in debt to the casino, Michel said.

Captain Missing After Tug Crash

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The tug Yetta capsized and sank early today in the Mississippi River below New Orleans. Its captain was still missing at dawn.

The Yetta went down after its tow line snapped as it was handling two barges. One of the crewmen, Russell Daugherty, 37, of Baton Rouge, was able to swim to safety on the west bank of the river. He alerted police and the Coast Guard.

A patrol boat later picked up two other crewmen from one of the barges. That left only Capt. Adams Waltman unaccounted for. A Coast Guard and police search was to resume at dawn.

The two men picked up from the barge were Charles B. Magee, 38, of New Orleans, and Paul Harris, 36, of Stonewall, Miss.

State Officer Among War Dead

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department today released the names of four fatalities in South Viet Nam, bringing the total U.S. dead from hospital action since Jan. 1, 1961 to 299. Today's list included the name of a Louisiana Air Force officer.

He was Maj. Robert F. Ronca, 41, husband of Mrs. Mildred Ronca of (3912 Gingerbread Road) Alexandria.

HEADING FOR U.N.

Khanh Demoted To Ambassador

DALAT, South Viet Nam (AP) — Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, ousted as leader of South Viet Nam, said today he is going to the United Nations. In an exclusive interview with The Associated Press, he said:

"I am sad to be leaving my troops in wartime, especially at this critical period. But I shall continue serving my country in other ways. This war must be fought on the diplomatic and political fronts as well as the military. I am now to be a roving ambassador."

"My first mission to the United Nations is to present the evidence of Viet Cong infiltration we seized off the Communist ship on our coast last week."

OUSTED HIM

In a speech prepared for Senate delivery, he warned that a negotiated settlement in South Viet Nam would lead to a "giant bloodletting" that would "dwarf the agony and suffering" already under way there.

The Connecticut Democrat's office estimated it would take him 2½ hours to read the speech.

Dodd's speech marked a new round in the continuing Senate debate over the U.S. course in South Viet Nam. A number of senators, including Frank Church, D-Idaho, and George S. McGovern, D-S.D., have urged the United States to look into the possibility of a cease-fire and a negotiated settlement to the Vietnamese war.

KEY CITIES

Dodd gave five steps he thought would help win the war without a major escalation. They are:

1. Better liaison with leaders of various sectors of the South Vietnamese community;

2. An improvement in South Vietnamese political warfare and propaganda efforts;

3. Establishment of a "North Vietnamese liberation front" under which South Vietnamese could carry guerrilla warfare into the north;

4. Actions to hold key cities on the Viet Nam-Laos frontier through which Viet Cong guerrillas have filtered into South Viet Nam;

5. Collective action by members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

"In my opinion," Dodd said, "the consequences of an American defeat in Viet Nam would be so catastrophic that we simply cannot permit ourselves to think of it."

He said abandonment of Southeast Asia to communism would bring the disintegration of alliances and "the total eclipse of America as a great nation."

McGovern, said Monday night on ABC's radio program "From the Capital" that he did not think that "the exploration of a peaceful settlement given the present circumstances in Viet Nam is running up the white flag. I think it's the position of reasonable men."

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James E. Parker of Crossett, Ark.

Possible Arson

Revenge For Assassination

NEW YORK (AP) — Fire gutted the Black Muslim mosque in Harlem early today, an apparent arson revenge for Malcolm X, the ousted and assassinated former minister of the temple.

Several witnesses heard explosions before flames shot into the sky. And on the roof of a building next door, investigators found an empty five-gallon tin which had contained kerosene or gasoline.

Police said it was possible to throw homemade firebombs or fuel from the roof through the barred fourth-floor windows of the mosque meeting hall, the heart of the spectacular blaze.

A kerosene-soaked bag also was in the next door building.

Fear that the slaying would touch off terrorism grew stronger after another fire today, at the Black Muslim meeting place in San Francisco. Kerosene was thrown on the sidewalk and the front door was ignited. Two patrolling police officers spotted the blaze early and damage was slight.

Police poured reinforcements into Harlem in an effort to block any further bloodshed or violence. They supplemented an extra force patrolling the almost all-Negro community since the assassination Sunday.

REBEL FOLLOWERS

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Major oil companies were set to oppose a request by Texaco, Inc. to reclassify wells in seven on-shore oil fields to gain extra production at a public hearing here today.

Texaco wants the fields classified as offshore wells, which would boost their allowed daily production by about 41,000 barrels.

Conservation Commissioner J. M. (Pete) Menefee, who conducts the hearing, has estimated that the state treasury would get an extra $12.8 million annually in royalties and severance tax if the change is approved.

Menefee said the hearing may last until 9 p.m., if he finds he can complete it today. Otherwise, another day will be required.

More than 150 members of the oil industry showed up, so many that the hearing was moved into the House of Representatives.

Menefee said Texaco attorneys and officials would use graphs and technical experts, including oceanographers, to offer a 2½ hour presentation in support of the application.

Then others will cross examine Texaco, and after that the opposition will speak followed by a cross examination.

"We will take the application under study," Menefee said, "and it will be 10 or 15 days before the transcript of the hearing will be ready."

The decision is up to Menefee, who sets the production allowances for all oil and gas wells in the state.

Gov. John McKeithen said last week he would back Menefee in whatever ruling he makes.

Under the formula used for determining how much production each well in the state is allowed daily, offshore wells—because of more expense involved—are permitted one barrel and a half for each barrel of similar on shore production.

The hearing took on political overtones Monday when the Louisiana Republican Political Action Committee said it was opposed to the change.

or more explosions. The blaze gutted the top two floors of the four-story building. (AP Wirephoto)

LATE NEWS BRIEFS

Reporter Witnesses Georgia Klan Rite

By BILL SHIPP
Atlanta Constitution

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Eleven "alien" men, some wearing purple Halloween masks, were "naturalized" as citizens of the Invisible Empire at a secret Ku Klux Klan ceremony near Lithonia, Ga., about 20 miles from Atlanta.

The "aliens" were 11 men adjudged by the Klan to be "qualified" white Caucasians. The Invisible Empire is the "government-within-the-government" operated by the Klan.

A Constitution reporter and a photographer were picked up in downtown Atlanta, blindfolded and taken to the initiation ritual by two Georgia Klansmen.

One was Calvin F. Craig, of Atlanta, grand dragon of the United Klans of America, Inc. The other Klansman identified himself only by a code name — "Blue Nose Leader."

Craig said the newsmen were permitted to observe the ceremony so that they could see that the Klan "is not un-American." Rep. Charles Weltner of Atlanta, a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has proposed that the committee investigate the Klan.

The rite was directed by the Klavern's cigar-chewing, red-robed exalted cyclops who told newsmen to address him as Mr. X.

Death Claims Frankfurter At Age 82

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter is dead of a heart attack at 82 and President Johnson in grief has praised him as "one of the great figures in legal history."

Chief Justice Earl Warren in a statement of mourning called Frankfurter "a great man of the law" and said "our nation is much richer because of his long and productive life."

Frankfurter, who stepped down because of poor health 2½ years ago after serving on the high court for 23 years, suffered an acute heart attack at his home here Sunday. He was taken to George Washington University Hospital, where he died late Monday.

His ailing wife, Marion, was confined to the family home and was informed of his death by family doctors. The Frankfurters had no children.

Frankfurter was born in Vienna, Austria, on Nov. 15, 1882, and was brought to the east side of New York City when he was 12. His father was a fur merchant. Young Frankfurter attended the College of the City of New York and continued his education at Harvard University Law School, where he received his law degree in 1906.

He returned to Harvard in 1914 as a law professor. Later, he recommended many of his former students as "brain trustees" for President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal.

Frankfurter delighted in recalling that he was in his underwear, dressing for dinner, when Roosevelt telephoned him on Jan. 4, 1939, to tell him that the next day he would name him to the Supreme Court to succeed Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo.

At that time Frankfurter was considered a liberal, but in later years he was considered a member of the conservative bloc of the bench. Frankfurter's own view was that conservatism and liberalism had nothing to do with judicial decisions.

Two years ago — on his 80th birthday — the Times of London paid editorial tribute to him. It said, "If any man has a right to be regarded as a citizen of the world it is he. Whether, when on the Supreme Court, he was a liberal or a conservative, or both, now matters little. He has always been a fighter for truth."

Frankfurter had no hesitancy about referring to his Jewish religion and once commented in an opinion:

"One who belongs to the most vilified and persecuted minority in history is not likely to be insensitive to the freedoms guaranteed by our Constitution." He added: "But as judges we are neither Jew nor gentile, neither Catholic nor agnostic. As a member of this court I am not justified in writing my private notions of policy into the Constitution, no matter how deeply I may cherish them or how mischievous I may deem their disregard."

He was credited by some observers with having had a major influence in the Supreme Court's 1954 decision banning racial segregation in public schools. Some said the court's unanimous decision was a result of Frankfurter's arguments in

'Suicide' Driver Loses License

OAKMERE, England (AP) — Britain's best-known woman driver has reached the end of the road, for a year at least.

Magistrates slapped the year's ban on Margaret Hunter, 66, Monday after finding her guilty of colliding with a tree.

Miss Hunter agreed the tree was stationary and that the 100-foot skid marks on the road were probably hers. She blamed the accident on a mysterious "propelling force" that took control of her car.

Constable Thomas James said he had asked what sort of force that was and she replied: "It was as if a jet force pushed me off the road."

"I just felt something from behind," Miss Hunter told the magistrates.

"I'd like to know who is doing it and why. The police should find out."

Miss Hunter first came to public notice in 1962 when her driving instructor jumped from her car in a busy street, yelling, "This is suicide."

She failed a series of tests for a license but eventually got one by establishing residence in Ireland, where no test was then needed. It was this license that the magistrates confiscated.

Miss Hunter demanded that the clerk of court be arrested for theft of her license. She said she would appeal her sentence.

"The nation will not believe all this rubbish," she declared.

Ulbricht Fans Israel, Arab Feud With Nuclear Warning

CAIRO (AP) — East German President Walter Ulbricht, due here Wednesday for a state visit, said today that atomic weapons in West German hands would constitute a direct threat to the Arabs.

"Should West Germany acquire atomic weapons from the West, she will not hesitate to provide Israel with these weapons, even through clandestine agreements with or without United States consent," Ulbricht told a correspondent of the semi-official paper Al Ahram.

Ulbricht was interviewed aboard the East German ship which will bring him to Alexandria. His visit is opposed by the West German government which considers itself the only legal government for all of Germany and regards Ulbricht's visit as de facto recognition of East Germany.

The Bonn government cut off arms aid to Israel in an effort to appease Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser and threatened to halt economic aid to Egypt if Nasser gave Ulbricht a red-carpet reception. Nasser responded with new denunciations of West Germany for its help to Israel.

Convicts Give Up To Newsmen

ELKMONT, Ala. (AP) — The decision of two north Alabama newspapermen to call it quits expedited the capture of a pair of escaped convicts near here Monday.

After watching county and state authorities, assisted by bloodhounds, hunt the convicts without success for three hours, Dick McGrew and Paul Smith decided to return to their Athens, Ala. newspaper.

As they turned their car around just across the Tennessee line on Highway 127, the escaped convicts appeared and gave themselves up. McGrew and Smith returned them to Alabama authorities.

Skilled Workers A Premium In Gary, Indiana Steel Mills

CHICAGO (AP) — Despite high school diplomas the steel industry has required.

Two industry giants, U.S. Steel and Inland Steel, have lowered education requirements and are seeking employees from such groups as the Chicago Urban League, the Illinois State Employment Service and the Cook County Department of Public Welfare.

Industry officials, unable to recruit workers in and around Gary, where only 2 per cent of the labor force is unemployed, have stepped up hiring efforts in Cook County — Chicago — where more than 265,000 persons are on relief rolls.

"We're going after them from every available source," William G. Caples, a vice president of Inland Steel, said Monday in an interview. "We're not holding to the higher standards."

60 Years Of Rotary

Rotary Clubs over the United States and in several foreign countries are observing this week as the 60th anniversary of Rotary International.

Local officers of the pioneer service club — Stan Bagwell of the Monroe club and Rev. Clifton R. Tennison of the West Monroe club — have built programs this week around stressing to the public the meaning of Rotary International.

"Service Above Self" and "He Profits Most Who Serves Best"—these are the two mottoes of the organization. They are passed on to every Rotarian to be applied in his personal, business and community life.

Exactly 60 years ago today, on February 23, 1905, the first meeting of the world's first Rotary Club was called to order in Chicago. It brought together the founder, Paul Harris, an attorney, with three of his business acquaintances — a mining engineer, a merchant tailor, and a coal dealer.

In the early days of the service organization, it was agreed that only one representative from each business or profession in the community would be admitted to any given club. The principle still continues.

In essence, the Rotary organization is a fraternal group of business and professional men with high ethical standards in vocations, strong convictions regarding strengthening international understanding and a desire to aid the underprivileged and unfortunate.

In a joint statement issued by Presidents Bagwell and Tennison,

Farmer's Decision

Since 1958, periodic polls of the nation's farmers have shown a desire for less government in agriculture.

The most recent returns from the fourth of such polls indicates that if the farmers were given the choice, they would make big changes in any farm program of the future.

A majority would do away with the present wheat, feed grain and dairy programs. On these they would like to see lower support prices and less government control over production with the open market serving as a guide to production and prices.

The poll was taken by Farm Journal magazine and the results were tabulated from a regionally-balanced sample of 5,000 returns. The poll should carry some weight as Congress considers those particular farm programs which expire with next year's crop.

The main regional differences revealed that farmers in the eastern and western sections of the nation are more opposed to government farm programs than those in other parts of the country.

Those answering were split 50-50 on keeping the present cotton program. Sixty-four per cent favored the present tobacco program. Both of these have price supports and acreage allotment features.

Generally, the farmers appear to want more sound business practices and less government interference in agriculture. Four of the poll's questions gave farmers the opportunity to vote for considerably stronger farm programs. Yet only three per cent voted for compulsory compliance with feed grain programs; only 14 per cent voted to give all dairymen a set production base with direct government payments for reducing production below that base; only 18 per cent voted for more direct government payments in general; 22 per cent voted for government quotas on poultry production.

According to the regional poll samplings, the largest farm managers were more willing to retain present programs while the smaller farmers favored changes. For example, smaller operators were more in favor of reducing cotton and dairy price supports and more smaller growers voted to do away with all wheat programs.

On the positive side, the results

it was pointed out: "The local Rotary Clubs join a world-wide celebration of all Rotarians who are bound together in the Rotary ideal of serving others."

At its Thursday meeting, the Monroe club will hear Dr. Walter R. Courtenay, nationally-known speaker and pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Nashville, Tennessee.

The West Monroe group has slated an inter-club meeting with the Ruston organization.

At the state level, an "anniversary party" was held in Baton Rouge earlier this month. Rotary's world leader, Charles W. Pettengill of Greenwich, Connecticut, was guest speaker for the occasion.

The statewide get-together of Rotarians extended a salute to 11,800 clubs and 560,000 members in 127 countries.

As the organization passes its 60th anniversary mark, it is growing at the rate of one club a day. Such growth is accurate testimony to Rotary's appeal by way of fellowship and service among men of different vocational backgrounds.

Generally, Rotarians participate in a great number of civic and community projects. While much of the service work is carried out without wide publicity, such projects are strengthened by Rotary support.

So to Rotarians in the clubs of this area, we extend our heartiest congratulations on the organization's 60th anniversary. We hope and trust Rotary will continue to grow in membership and in the fostering of a high sense of ethics, service and fellowship.

Coalition In Congress Able To Overturn Majority

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Although the current congress has been in session only a few weeks, it is already apparent that the overwhelming majority in both houses won by the Democratic party last autumn can be overturned at will by a coalition of Republicans and Democrats who may wish to oppose certain measures of the Johnson Administration.

While coalitions have been in existence in both houses for the last 30 years, the new combination of Republican and Democratic votes is not likely to emerge on the same issues as have arisen in the past. Thus, on "civil rights" questions, the coalition is not able to command a majority because the northern Republicans vote with the southern Democrats, and this constitutes a big majority.

It is, however, on economic issues which appeal to non-radical members in both parties that significant votes will be taken. One example is labor legislation. President Johnson recently recommended that the Taft-Hartley act be amended so as to permit compulsory unionization in all states which now have laws against it. This is a question loaded with trouble even for the labor unions themselves which are espousing the change. Once Congress begins to debate any change in the Taft-Hartley act, there are certain to be countercdemands for strict regulation of strikes and also the internal affairs of labor unions, especially as they approach monopolistic practices.

If such an issue came to a vote today, it seems certain that a majority would be found in

TODAY'S THOUGHTS

Prophecies Of Pessimists Now Being Tested In Field

By HOLMES ALEXANDER

WASHINGTON — The "decline" of the West and the fading "day of the Saxon" were long ago foreseen by philosophers and visionary historians, but now we did not have to depend upon the Spenglers and Homer Leas — their prophecies are being tested in the story of our times. Two current books describing epochal battles will serve as landmarks in viewing the fate of Western Civilization. The five-week battle for Iwo Jima, beginning in February 1945, gave us the famous flag raising scene on Mount Suribachi. The author of this latest account Richard Newcomb, rightly groups that combat photograph by the AP's Joe Rosenthal with Leutze's Washington Crossing the Delaware and Willard's Spirit of '76 as unforgettable symbols of American traditions.

Armchair critics may question the military judgment which resulted in spending 28,686 American casualties to take this sulphur island from the desperate Japanese, but the U.S. Marines who bore the heaviest losses were not there to "reason why." When a San Francisco newspaper criticized the strategy unfavorably, one hundred Leathernecks on leave in that city marched upon the managing editor and demanded an apology in the names of their fallen buddies. And Navy Secretary Forrestal, who was at the battle, answered a mother's letter:

"ON DECEMBER 7, 1941, the Axis confronted us with a simple choice: Fight or be overrun . . . we have now no final means of winning battles except through the valor of the Marine or Army soldier who, with rifle and grenade, storms enemy positions . . ."

The taking of Iwo Jima gave the Air Force forward bases only 660 miles from Tokyo, but the blow that it dealt the Japanese morale may have been still more important. This island was part of the Empire, an actual section of the Prefecture of Tokyo. With its fall, the forces of the West had met the cream of the Oriental fighters in hand to hand combat and had breached the homeland of the East. Even without the two atomic bombs exploded later that year, the Americans had won the war and proved themselves the better men.

NINE YEARS after Iwo Jima another Western force, the French army — but morally and financially backed by American policy — went to defeat at Dienbienphu as described in the new book by Jules Roy. And eleven years after Dienbienphu, the Republic of Vietnam — morally, financially and militarily "advised" by Americans — is fighting defensively to hold what may be the last Western foothold in Southeast Asia.

Defense Secretary McNamara, like Forrestal, has been to the front, but somehow the certitude of the 1940's is not there in the 1960's. For reasons that attack to the guilt we have been tutored to feel for Hiroshima, and to the foolish need to prove that we believe in "democracy" more than in our pride at being Americans, and to an obsession for "peace" which is a euphemism for fear, we have financed the French and now the South Vietnamese to fight for territory that Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson have all thought to be strategically important to this country and the Western World.

Whereas Forrestal spoke with homage of soldiering "valor" as the means of defeating the Axis McNamara in Vietnam in May 1962, used much paler language to predict victory over the Communist powers:

"Every quantitative measurement we have shows we're winning this war."

Depressed Areas On Increase

By FULTON LEWIS

WASHINGTON — The President will shortly send to Capitol Hill a message asking $400 million to keep the Area Redevelopment Agency in operation.

Congressional approval is all but certain.

The vast majority of ARA projects are located in Congressional districts that have sent a loyal Democrat to the nation's Capital.

"ARA lists 300 persons as toiling in a Wheeling, W. Va., rifle factory which grew from a $272,000 loan," Stevenson wrote. "Stop there and you'll find the place empty. It was built in expectation of a defense contract — but the contract never came."

A METAL fabricating firm in southeastern Pennsylvania hired 50 new workers after receiving an ARA loan, according to the agency. The firm actually employed 11 persons. And a candy manufacturer says that his employment may actually decrease after he uses ARA funds to buy new machinery. He's on the ARA book for 50 jobs.

The majority of ARA dollars thus far dispersed have gone not into industrial areas of great unemployment but into loosely designated rural areas of lesser need. ARA planners, moreover, frequently ignore provisions of the law that stipulate no aid may go to companies able to make "reasonable" financial assistance elsewhere.

ARA funds have gone to such firms as the Howard Johnson chain, A. G. Spaulding and Brothers, and the American Optical Co.

A wealthy Detroit industrialist was given almost $1 million to build a luxurious resort in Northern Michigan. Not long after, he says, the ARA "was examining mills open."

In Wisconsin, ARA financed a $418,000 plant to make paper towels although existing mills in the state were operating at less than capacity.

In Alaska, the town of Seward (adult population: 75) received $1.5 million for port development. Traffic to be developed will be carried by the Canadian National Railways out of Canadian origination points. This type of cargo is usually carried by American carriers to

INDECISION AND IMMURITY

Maturity is the secret of a well-adjusted and happy life. It helps man to control his basic impulses and desires and to direct them into channels where they do the most good. The end result is a personality that helps us do the best we can with what we have.

In contrast, immaturity is the bugaboo of psychiatrists. It is responsible for many nervous ailments and behavior problems.

6-Week Diet

Ends For 4

Students Today

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Four college students who went on a liquid diet for space science get solid food — and their first bath in six weeks — today.

The quartet is the first to test a new liquid formula, much like a housewife's diet drink, which may someday feed American astronauts on long space flights.

The young men have spent six weeks in isolation. Half that time they ate only the diet drink — in vanilla, chocolate, cherry and strawberry flavors.

For 28 days, they have been confined in a space tank to simulate the conditions in a space ship on a long flight.

The volunteers, all Ohio State University students, are Brooks L. Harrop, 25, Amlin; John T. Kelley, 25, Willoughby; Norman H. Gary, 22, Delaware, and Gerald P. Petersen, 22, Euclid. Each will get $1,000 — less income taxes — for the test.

Results will be passed along to National Aeronautics and Space Administration planners preparing for the first two-man orbital flight this spring in Project Gemini. A spokesman at the medical research laboratory at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base here said the information likely would be more useful on longer flights, such as the planned voyage to the moon in Project Apollo.

The primary purposes of this test, seventh in a series here, are determining the liquid food's acceptability and ability to keep men healthy. A secondary purpose is testing personal hygiene — the effects of going without daily shaving or changing clothes for six weeks.

Previous diet tests have stressed frozen dehydrated food. This one used that space age food too, but emphasized the liquid concentrate.

The men have been able to talk with researchers outside and have television to help occupy their free time. They were assigned tasks and tests to keep them busy much of the time.

Eight hours a day were allotted for sleeping.

Petersen and Gary spent part of each day in pressure suits and Harrop and Kelley wore instruments designed to take physiological measurements during Gemini flights.

The tests are conducted jointly by NASA and the Air Force.

13, 1961 the 14,000 East German guards have used their weapons 899 times, have killed at least 55 persons fleeing to the West and have thrown 1,898 tear gas grenades into the Western sector.

The 1,750 West Berlin policemen whose beat over the barricades have shot back 13 times, killed at least two Eastern guards in exchanges of fire and have thrown 1,625 gas grenades.

More than 3,000 East Germans have escaped through the wall, including 427 guards in uniform. West Berlin police have seen 1,925 persons apprehended as they tried to escape.

The figures were released by West Berlin Deputy Mayor Heinrich Albertz. Despite the shooting, he said he believed his police's "operation kindness" has been partially successful.

Albertz says that far fewer refugees are escaping these days because Red security has been tightened. However, more and more of those who do get through are not wounded or shot at.

In exchange for cigarettes and chocolate, some East German guards give West Berlin police information about their units' activities. Some pass over their home addresses in hopes of becoming pen pals.

Albertz fears that such letter exchanges will soon cease. Word has seeped through the wall that letters to East German guards must be opened and read in their presence by superior officers.

The West Berlin police must take extreme care that the recipients of the gifts are not seen by "comrades." If caught, the Eastern guards get stiff jail sentences.

The majority of the Eastern wall guards are chosen for their jobs only if they are married or have relatives in the Red satellite who could be made to suffer should they defect to the West.

Albertz said wall guards who have escaped recently reported the East Germans plan to reinforce the wall and make it impregnable.

A new 1,200-foot section of concrete has been added to the 9-mile stretch already standing. Albertz said the Reds evidently want to clear a 110-yard stretch along the frontier and dig a huge trench in it to hinder the flight of refugees.

Behind the trench will probably be a high barbed wire fence. A highway will run alongside the fence so motorized patrols can move more rapidly.

Eight hours a day were allotted for sleeping.

Petersen and Gary spent part of each day in pressure suits and Harrop and Kelley wore instruments designed to take physiological measurements during Gemini flights.

The tests are conducted jointly by NASA and the Air Force.

Solon To Seek Naming LSUNO After Morrison

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — State Sen. James A. Moreau, D-Orleans, says he has asked the Louisiana Legislative Council to determine what procedures are necessary to rename Louisiana State University in New Orleans after the late deLesseps S. (Chop) Morrison.

Moreau said he would offer legislation for the change at the May fiscal legislative session.

"This wouldn't be anything new in state-supported colleges and universities," said Moreau. "Francis T. Nicholls State College at Thibodaux, after all, is named after former Gov. Nicholls."

Policing Of Drug Industry In State To Be Discussed

BATON ROUGE (UPI) — Rep. Arthur A. Craig of Orleans Parish today and Wednesday plans to talk about policing the Louisiana drug industry with members of the State Pharmacy Board.

Craig, a registered pharmacist, met Monday with Gov. McKeithen over the Louisiana Welfare Department's recent controversial ruling on drugs.

Welfare Commissioner Edmund Reggie announced earlier the state would no longer pay for high priced trademarked drugs in 19 categories when cheaper but equal generic medications were available.

Reggie's ruling was aimed at curbing cost of the program, which supplies aged welfare patients drugs free of cost.

An audit showed some drugists gave welfare patients cheaper generic drugs but made the state pay for more expensive trademarked drugs.

The reason he was talking with pharmacy board members, Craig said, was "to prevent the recurrence of the alleged violations."

Worst 'Tucky Year; Indiana Hope Dimmed

By United Press International

The Vanderbilt Commodores, gunning for their first Southeastern Conference title, must cool off the hottest team in the league before they start handing out NCAA tournament ducats.

The Commodores, who belted Georgia 89-72 Monday night, must face Alabama, currently riding a five-game winning streak, on Saturday. Vanderbilt, 11-1 in the conference, holds a one game edge over runner-up Tennessee, which was upset by the Crimson Tide last weekend.

Alabama notched No. 5 with a 75-71 win over Kentucky while Tennessee stayed in contention by pasting Auburn 69-38.

Vandy stretched a 38-35

margin after intermission behind the scoring of forward Bob Grace.

The Vols held Auburn to only 15 points in the second half while hitting the nets for 43 points themselves after intermission. A. W. Davis led the outburst and collected 21 points to take game honors.

Alabama handed the Wildcats their 10th loss of the season, their worst record since Adolph Rupp became head coach in 1932. Harry Hammons poured in 26 points and pulled down 16 rebounds to spark the Crimson Tide, which had to come back three times from eight-point Kentucky advantages.

Purdue dimmed whatever hopes Indiana had for a Big Ten crown with a decisive 82-70 victory over the ninth-ranked Hoosiers despite 40 points from the Van Arsdale twin brothers.

Dave Schellhase netted 32 points to lead the Boilermaker attack while brother Tom collected 21 and brother Dick 19.

Ohio State handed Michigan State its 10th straight loss with a 101-90 thumping behind Capt. Dick Ricketts' 27 points. Game honors went to the Spartans' Stan Washington, who had 28.

Ohio University, tied for the Mid-American Conference lead with Miami of Ohio, beat non-league foe Loyola (Chicago) for the Bobcats' 24th consecutive home court decision. Ohio's Don Holt accounted for 25 points and 24 rebounds but the Ramblers Jim Coleman was high scorer with 28.

Missouri upset Big Eight title holder Colorado, 80-75; Wake Forest needed an overtime to beat Virginia, 74-72; Utah State nipped Seattle, 71-67; Louisiana State defeated Mississippi, 60-56; and Bowling Green blasted Marshall, 114-93.

The Sports PatrolMatter Of Pride

With Steve Snider

NEW YORK (UPI) — What makes Billy run? Or Ralph or Jack, for that matter.

Pride is a major factor. These are proud men — men like Marine Lieut. Billy Mills, Ralph Boston and Jack Yerman — who make a considerable sacrifice in time and physical torture to keep competing in the highly amateur area of track and field.

"I hate to let people down on the banquet circuit even if it means taking some terrible beatings on the running circuit," says the 26-year-old Mills who rose from obscurity to world fame as the Olympic 10,000 meter winner at Tokyo.

"As long as I'm going good, I'll keep at it," says Boston, 25. "If I lose to Ter (Igor Ter-Ovanesyan of Russia) once in a while, it's a loss to one of the world's great athletes."

"I shouldn't have run after that fall," says Yerman, just turned 26 and a veteran of Olympic competition, referring to a spill he took last Saturday night on the first turn of the AAU 600. The race was restarted and Yerman won.

CARRY ON

"But I had come a long way to run despite an attack of flu for the last three weeks and I figured I might as well follow through."

A guy they all feel sorry for is Olympic 400 meter champ Mike Larabee, who has lost nine straight indoor races this year but swallows his pride and comes back for more. Mike's size and style, made to order for the powerful surges required outdoors, are utterly unsuited for the tight and frequent turns to be met on the board track circuit.

Mills, who is 7-16ths Sioux Indian and before the result at Tokyo rated as the handsomest but least known member of the American team, took his lumps with good grace in the early going of the current indoor season.

His specialty is the 10,000 meters (six miles, plus) but they don't run that far indoors jumping or throwing.

BASEBALL SIGNINGSBunning, Bouton Okay ContractsBy DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Bunning hasn't felt better since last June 21. Jim Bouton, Ralph Houk and CBS are one big happy family. Now, if Ford Frick could see eye to eye with Masonori Murakami . . .

Bunning, who pitched a perfect game for the Philadelphia Phillies eight months ago, signed a 1965 contract Monday that catapulted the 33-year-old right-hander into super-star salary status.

Bouton, young right-handed ace of the network-owned New York Yankees pitching staff, who waged a brief but bitter salary feud with General Manager Houk last winter, also agreed to 1965 terms — at a solid pay boost.

But Murakami, the Japanese southpaw who finished last season with the San Francisco Giants, insisted he has no yen for either the American dollar or the National League.

Commissioner Frick has broken off relations with the Japanese leagues as a result of the Northeast Ends Season At Delta

Northeast State's Gulf Conference basketball champions will be in Cleveland, Miss., tonight for an 8 o'clock game that will finish their season as they quest for their 19th win in 22 games this season, their 11th straight win, and 100th Northeast victory for Coach Lenny Fant.

Northeast, unbeaten since January 8 and on a college record winning streak that has bettered the Indian old mark of nine straight in the 1961-62 season, also will be trying to shatter Delta's perfect home record.

Northeast and Delta State have met once this season with Northeast taking an 87-71 victory on its home court. Victory is likely to come a lot harder tonight since Delta's Statesmen have a perfect record in Sillers Coliseum.

Oak Grove Vs. Caldwell For 2-A's Crown

The Caldwell Spartans and the Oak Grove Tigers will represent district 2-A in bi-district championship basketball playoffs, but first they'll clash Thursday night on a neutral court, to be announced, for the district championship.

They ended title bids for Tallulah and LaSalle of Olla in games last night when Caldwell socked Tallulah, 68-45, at Columbia and Oak Grove shelled LaSalle, 71-45, at Oak Grove in district semi-final playoffs.

Larry Newton was the Spartan spark with 21 points, called by Boone McCarty's 19 and Alva Warner's 12.

The Trojans, led by Mickey Smith with 17 points and Donny Atter's 12 made it close for the first half, but the Spartans pulled away in the second half.

Two-time all-state Mike Gammon was high scorer in the Oak Grove win with 33 points.

After a close first quarter, the Tigers charged far ahead in the second and third periods.

LaSalle led the final period, too late to catch up, at the expense of the Tiger reserves. Steve Long's 14 points led LaSalle.

West Monroe's '65 Grid Slate Shows 11 Games

Coach Walter Brister, the ex-Pineville High football boss heading for his first season as West Monroe's head coach, yesterday announced an 11-game season for Rebel gridders next fall.

The Rebels, with an open date the first weekend of the season last year, has filled the date with Jonesboro-Hodge. Bolton, the Reb opener on the second playing date a year ago, has been replaced by Ruston, and Airline of Bossier City replaces Jesuit of Shreveport. Otherwise WMHS meets its rivals in the same order as in 1964.

Both seniors have been at their best in crucial games. Butler had a perfect night-seven field goals in seven shots, two - for - two at the foul line — in the Tribe's 98-95 GSC victory over Southwestern, scored 19 points in the 97-92 overtime triumph over Louisiana Tech and grabbed 13 rebounds to lead all players as Northeast clinched the title with a 76-72 victory over Northwestern.

Williams scored 14 points in that victory over Northwestern, hit his season high of 21 on the road against Southwestern and put in 15 points — 13 of them in the last half — when Northeast came from 16 points back to overtake Southeastern, 80, and move into a share of the conference lead.

If you can sell her on this, you can sell her on anything.

"Me? In that?"

When you take your wife to see the Volkswagen Station Wagon don't be surprised if you have to drag her.

"But it looks silly."

That's your first problem: you have to explain the flat face and square shape.

The front is flat because the engine is in the back. This eliminates a long hood and makes our wagon almost as easy to park as our sedan.

(There's only 9 inches difference.)

And the square shape holds almost twice as much as an everyday wagon: 170 cubic feet.

Once you coax her behind the wheel, be ready for something like this:

"But it's like sitting in a fishbowl."

She's right, it is. There are 21 windows in the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

And if she handles the family checkbook, you might show her a few numbers:

24 mpg on regular, 35,000 miles on tires.

4 pints of oil, not 4 quarts.

If you can sell your wife on the VW Station Wagon, consider yourself a star salesman.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

A friend of mine has three delightful, small children who are the most amazing eaters imaginable. They eat everything! Without fuss . . . and have since they were wee ones. Seems the mother's secret is this: the children's dad is a wonderful salesman. He led the little ones into good eating habits by using the positive approach . . . making eating fun. Everything was luscious, delicious, great, marvelous. He tasted everything they ate and literally lip-smacked them into eating their food.

Enjoyment of food comes naturally when you serve Gerber Junior Foods. And small wonder! They're prepared by specialists with special know-how on what older types and toddlers will like. They abound in appealing colors and tempting flavors. And they're seasoned with a knowing hand to suit the semi-grown-up tastes of toddlers. Like all Gerber Baby Foods, each one is "custom-cooked" to preserve the utmost in precious food values.

Festive Luncheon Held In Edward Foster Home

A luncheon for the local council was the compliment of Mrs. Freedra Mickel, president of the Women's Council of the Monroe - West Monroe Real Estate Board and Mrs. Adele Brown, state president of the Women's Council of the National Association of Real Estate Boards when the organization met Thursday, February 18.

The living room of the Edward Foster home, 4000 Deborah Drive, was beautifully appointed with a profusion of spring flowers. Attracting special attention were two eighteenth century vases filled with blossoms which were used on the mantel.

The buffet table in the dining room was covered with an imported cutwork organdy cloth over red satin. A crystal and gold compote held an old fashioned nosegay of red camellias and red satin hearts, encircled with red and white lace. Highlighting the arrangement was a cupid with bow and arrow.

Red roses and violets in milk glass containers centered the individual tables which were placed in the large den overlooking the bayou.

Mrs. Monk Salley conducted the program of the meeting calling on Mrs. Charles Glover for report on health and safety and Mrs. W. J. Dunn on clothing. The demonstration on "New Pattern for Spending" was given by Mrs. Charles Crawford.

DEAR ABBY

Boys Need Courage To Ask Girl To Dance

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I would be writing a letter to DEAR ABBY, but I just have to have an answer. I am a 16-year-old junior and I would like to know why boys pay good money to get into a dance and then just stand around. Please put your answer in the paper as there are about a million girls who share this problem.

HOPKINS, MINN.

DEAR HOPKINS: They want to be near a girl just in case they get the courage up to ask one of them to dance.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what the punishment is for a man and woman who are caught posing as Mr. and Mrs. in California hotels and motels. My husband and his girl friend (who is also married) posed as man and wife in Sacramento, La Jolla and Palo Alto. We have three children. Two are teenagers, and my husband had the nerve to tell our teen-aged boys to stay away from a certain girl because she wasn't "nice." Meanwhile, HE travels all over the State of California committing adultery with this tramp. I know I have grounds for divorce, but I would rather stay married to him and put HER in prison. Can this be arranged?

NOT FOOLED

DEAR NOT: Unmarried couples posing as man and wife in hotel and motel rooms are lawbreakers in EVERY state. The punishment varies, but the publicity and fallout on family and friends is always regrettable. Unless the girl friend kidnapped your husband, the guilt must be equally shared.

DEAR ABBY: I pray that the 14-year-old, "Can't sign my name," needs your advice and tells her mother or the police before it's too late. I was a widow with two daughters, 8 and 10, when I married what I thought was a fine and honorable man. I found out too late that he had molested my 10-year-old since the first year of our marriage until she was 13. She was afraid to tell me because he threatened to kill her if she did. I suspected she was pregnant and the very day I found out she was, that contemptible creature tried to molest the other girl, then 11, but thank heavens SHE told me in time. I had him arrested, and filed for divorce. He is now serving a prison term and we are divorced — but good! I shudder to think of what may happen to that child if she doesn't tell her mother or report the man to the police at once. You have my permission to print this if you think it will

Authentic Styles In Lighting

New lighting fixtures are planned to harmonize with traditional, early American or contemporary surroundings.

Styles include chandeliers in a wide range of designs, such as crystal teardrops cascading from slender brass arcs; antique brass with crystal hurricane shades; authentic tote with hand-decorated white and gold shades; plus a number of classic designs reminiscent of Colonial days.

Pendant-type lighting fixtures are varied, too. Some are designed to drop from a single hanger in a cluster, or to be used singly.

Pull-downs feature, for example, a Colonial melon-shaped shade over an opal glass chimney. Other choices are a blown glass opal chimney with pierced metal shades or a frosted chimney with polished brass trimming and pierced metal shade.

Clothes Necessary To Global TV Job

By FLORENCE de SANTIS

A fashion editor often wishes that more women would realize that clothes should be used with a touch of the actress. So it's a bit startling to find a woman whose very job success often depends on what she is wearing.

Hope Ryden is a fair, pretty young woman who is a TV producer for Robert Drew Associates. This firm produces journalism for TV. The programs involve real people living, not just re-enacting or talking about, some dramatic situations in their lives.

Hope researches the possibilities of a story, then sets out to get it on film. There is never a script. She is just there, filming away until her subjects forget the equipment is there.

They must forget Hope is there, too, and that's where clothes come in. Hope must dress wherever she goes in such a way as to blend into, not stand out from, the background.

"That can mean problems," she reminisced over lunch at Sardi's. "In Ghana people go bathing with nothing on, but in Malaya the women go in the water in their saris. I didn't feel up to the nothing bit, so I bought a bikini in Ghana. But my quite covered-up bathing suit was wrong in Malaya because Malaysians don't show the arms. After the first time, I went in bathing in my clothes!"

Some of Hope's recent filmings have included a Girl Scout story, a Broadway play readying for the first night, a Peace Corps nurse in Malaya. In fashion terms that meant wearing Scout uniform, formal dress, cutter dresses.

"Fashion customs are very important because so many of our films turn out to be situated in rural rather than city spots. You must follow custom or insult the local people, and lose your film."

Since Hope remains for a while on any single location, the people often become her friends. They will present her with the local costume, and she always wears it if they do, even if it's awkward for her work.

"You see, I'm usually carrying about 20 pounds of equipment. We use hand-held cameras to be less conspicuous. Everything I do must be aimed at taking on the coloring of the place so our subjects will go about their business as if we weren't there."

Part of Hope's researches is directed at the culture and customs of the place she is going next, and she seldom makes an

Fashion Questions And Answers

By FLORENCE DE SANTIS

Q: Can you give some suggestions for planning a spring summer wardrobe, in colors, fabrics and styles?

A: A coat and dress costume would be a good start, plus a souffle wool suit, and one dress in cocktail style, that is, with very short sleeves and lower neckline. In colors you have a wide choice from white through all beiges to turquoise, yellow, grass green and pink. Navy and black are used only when well mixed with white or a bright color. Silhouettes are softer, with long-torso definition, swingier skirts, but the A-line is still good in cocktail dresses.

Q: For a March trip to Denver, San Francisco and Hawaii, how do my husband and I solve the climate problem in our clothes?

A: By taking a fairly warm all-weather coat (which will admittedly be useless in Hawaii, you can't freeze elsewhere!) plus a variety of fabrics in your other clothes. For you, two and three-piece outfits, for your husband both a couple of city suits and some light slacks and sports shirts in cotton blends, a pullover sleeveless sweater error like the bathing suit in Malaya. For instance, she wore sleeveless dresses, because the mosquitos are fierce, and she found out you can get filariasis (elephantiasis) from them.

It's always unwise to ignore native customs of dress. The people know from experience what's best for their climate."

Hope looks for themes that won't date too quickly and that have dramatic possibilities, but nothing in the films is ever staged or faked. She just waits for the drama to happen, such as the Peace Corps nurse who in her first 24 hours on the job found herself giving transfusions on a boat crossing a strait at night under Indonesian gunfire.

"There were no clothes suitable for that!" said Hope. "I hadn't thought to bring a bullet-proof vest."

A children's theatre is not a difficult or expensive project. Just follow these simple directions compiled by the Construction Research Bureau, the national clearing house for building information:

1—Mark off the stage area at one end of the playroom. It will be playroom wide but the depth can range from 5 to 12 feet, depending on the length of the playroom. There's no need for a higher level stage.

HANG THE CURTAIN

2—It's the curtain which tells you immediately you are in a theatre. It can be simply set up by stringing a clothesline between two wall hooks and hanging the curtain from metal loops which can be easily pulled along the line.

3—Set up audience folding chairs. Constant restlessness moving of chairs, and furniture props on the stage area could be rough on floors, so it is desirable to have a vinyl asbestos flooring such as Kentile which withstands traffic scuffing and stains and is easily cleaned. Such a floor is easily put down by the homeowner himself.

4—Performance materials are available at reasonable, non-royalty cost in the books "Dramatic Ballads" and "Dramatics Ceremonies" obtainable from the National Office, Girl Scouts of America, 830 3rd Avenue, NYC. Other materials are in the local library. Children can also perform by singing songs or reciting poems.

5—A theatrical mood can be attained by putting photos of movie and television stars on the walls. A stage curtain of blank muslin can be decorated with the words Children's Theatre and such famous names as Shakespeare, Shaw and Ibsen. Smiling or weeping gargoyles can be added. Theatre programs can be tacked to a bulletin board which also can hold rehearsals calls.

PRELIMINARY MEETINGS

6—Skits or readings to be put should be discussed at a preliminary meeting and parts assigned. Rehearsals before a specific performance time are important and can be a lot of fun.

7—Not all the amusement is onstage. Boys often love the roles of State Manager (2 needed to pull curtains open and closed) Prop Man, (for setting out chairs and sets) and Publicity Director (writing up announcements for neighborhood distribution).

A children's theatre gives young girls a chance to play at being a glamorous movie star onstage and allows boys to demonstrate strength and masculinity by pushing around seats and furniture. It's fun for everyone.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices rose in fairly brisk fashion early this afternoon despite a scattering of soft spots.

The list was up from the start after the long Washington birthday weekend.

Traders showed relief that nothing of drastic nature occurred in the Viet Nam region over the weekend. A call for postponement of the steel strike deadline and Britain's lowering of its import surcharge were other encouraging factors in the news.

Gains of key stocks were mostly fractional and quite a few were unchanged. A few leading issues took fractional losses. A number of secondary stocks were bought eagerly and posted gains of a point or better.

A generally higher tone prevailed among steels, motors, rails, electronics, building materials, electrical equipments and aerospace stocks.

Utilities and chemicals were scrambled.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .9 at 333.3 with industrials up 1.3, rails up .8 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.25 at 888.86.

Eastman Kodak advanced about 2 points following its report of record sales and earnings for 1964. The chemical group, however, included a loss of nearly a point by Du Pont.

All Big Three motors posted fractional gains. Steels also were a shade higher.

Prices were higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were narrowly mixed. U.S. government bonds were generally unchanged.

Alexander Hamilton Institute, Inc., in its investment bulletin, said the pending steel-wage negotiations pose the major uncertainty for business and the market on the domestic scene.

"Hostilities in southeast Asia, however, will remain a dominant influence on stock prices in coming months. Experience has shown that war-scare-induced price declines have usually been only temporary and, in retrospect, have been attractive buying opportunities."

Price Hearing For Area Today

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Louisiana Milk Commission today opens a price order hearing for milk products sold in 17 north Louisiana parishes.

Included in the hearing are milk plant operators and grocery store representatives in the parishes of Caldwell, Catahoula, Concordia, East Carroll, Franklin, Grant, Jackson, La Salle, Lincoln, Madison, Morehouse, Ouachita, Richland, Tensas, Union, West Carroll and Winn.

The parishes are operating a price order issued in 1963 when they were part of a larger sales area. In 1964 the commission split the old section which comprised 45 parishes, into three smaller sections.

This caused the commission to hold a new hearing to set a new price order. The session is likely to continue until Wednesday.

Answers A man leaves this without a single prospect—THE ALTAR

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: The Bible uses the word "fear" many times. I cannot reconcile this with "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart." Why should we fear the Lord Who Loves us?

G.B.

ANSWER: The word "fear" appears many times in the Bible in the sense you use it in your question, such as "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." This does not mean terror, dread, or fright, in our sense of those words. It means reverence, trust, sense of awe and a recognition of God's majesty and power. To fear God is to trust, believe and obey Him, and walk humbly before Him. To do this means that none need be afraid of any man. The Psalmist said: "The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom then shall I fear?"

Your question also brings up one of the reasons for new versions and translations of the Bible as being aids to readers of the King James magnificent version of 1611. "Prevent," in the 1611 version meant, "go before." "Let" meant "obstructed and delayed." Scores of similar changes of meaning of words could be pointed out.
